10 PIMPIN THINGS TO DO

10: In art class, Linda Lopez and Robert Guemsey discuss their weekend plans.

9: Senior Crystal Baldner shows how "demanding" her class schedule is this year.

5: Eating school food oh... no. Crystal Baldner likes to go out for lunch on a regular basis.

4: Recreating the infamous senior prank of parking sideways in the parking lot. Better move those cars before they get towed!

3: Mr. Maginot's class is so stimulating, the students had to rest their brain and take a nap.

10

Go on a date with your crush.

Save senior year for blow-off classes.

Get away with leaving for lunch.

5

Pull a school prank.

4

Have at least one class with Mr. Maginot.

3

BEFORE YOU GRADUATE

8

Be part of a crazy cheering student section at a school event.

Win a Homecoming game.

Sneak out of class and roam the halls.

Drop out of school eight weeks before graduation...no... not really!

T. P. someone's car.

8: These true Warrior fans take a break from cheering on the boys basketball team to pose for a picture.

7: Kristina Bohannon and Zoran Picarov have nothing better to do than roam the hallway.

6: Since the school can not be t.p.ed, the students decided to t.p. the cars.

Fads

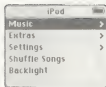

This year was one full of different kinds of fads and trends. There were some electronics and some movies that we have been anticipating for some years now. One movie we have to mention would have to be Star Wars Episode III. Since George Lucas released Episodes I and II we've been waiting for this movie. Since he released his first Star Wars film in 1977, he finished his series with perfection in 2005.

Another trend was the bracelets. It started with Lance Amrstrong wearing them to support research to find cures for the various types of cancer.

Another big fad going around was the new Apple iPod. It is a MP3 player that holds loads of songs. It holds 20 gigs of songs which is about 5,000 songs. It comes in many different colors.

Some popular shows that had all the teenagers watching every week were The O.C and Desperate Housewives. These shows attract a lot of teenagers and adults.

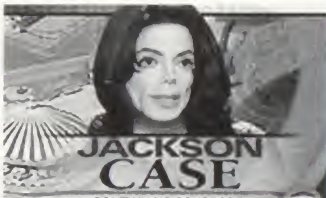

Also some popular scandals this year were the Michael Jackson trial for alleged misconduct, Scott Peterson and the Robert Blake trials which both were for murder. Those were some of the trends that took place from 2004-2005.

The Most Popular Wristbands

1. Black-Washington Wizards (tsunami relief)
2. Red-Campaign for Tobacco Free Kids
3. Pale Pink-Findthecure (breast cancer)
4. Bright Pink-Living in Pink (breast cancer)
5. Pale Blue-Findthecure (autism)
6. Bright Blue-Students Against Terrorism (Israel)
7. Orange-Juvenile Diabetes Reserach Foundation
8. Purple-Lupus Foundation
9. Yellow-Lance Armstrong Foundation (cancer)

Educated Gangsta

Each year Calumet has a group of students who compete against other schools to show who has the best scholastic abilities in academics and spelling. Students that participate on the Academic Team are able to enhance their knowledge in the Fine Arts, Science, Social Studies, or Math. In Spell Bowl students are given a packet that contains all the words they will be given to spell at the competition. They must then study the packet and memorize the correct spelling of each word. Both the Academic Team and Spell Bowl have students who don't mind doing hard work, a lot of research and who are dedicated to their schoolwork.

English Is Off Da Hinges!

English classes at Calumet are very important and exciting. Throughout the year, students work on grammar, spelling, writing and reading poems, plays and novels. Calumet offers two types of English Classes, Regular and Honors. English Honors is only required when a student wants to receive an Honors Diploma, but many students take it for the experience and challenge even if they are not receiving an Honors Diploma. Senior English is probably the most important English class taken. This year, the students read Canterbury Tales and reenacted the characters' stories. They also read the pimpin' play Measure for Measure and went on a field trip to Chicago to see the play at the Shakespeare Theatre on Navy Pier.

Below: While reading Romeo & Juliet, Noah Kirincic gets very interested in the play. He is the only one who seems to be paying attention.

Right: Sophomore Billy Evans pays close attention on the proper way to cite a source. He will be using this knowledge much more through the rest of his high school days.

Speaking That Slang

This year in Spanish Class Mrs. Jones separated Spanish III from Spanish IV. That was something she hasn't done in a few years. Her new Spanish students were a little shaky at first, but they caught on eventually. Spanish III had an event-filled year from all the projects they did and speeches she assigned. Some didn't like it, but at least they got to have some fun and learn a language. They went on one field trip this year and it was to the Chicago Museum of Fine Arts where they learned about and saw the paintings because every year she has a section on famous Spanish painters. This year in her Spanish IV or Spanish AP they learned advanced Spanish and they had multiple packets to do and packets of vocabulary to learn. It sounds hard, but it was fun. She grades you on your participation and how well you come prepared to class every day. They also went to the Don Quijote restaurant to taste some authentic food.

Right: Brandon Lohman is looking for a chance to get a big word on the board to finish Jill Spencer off. Jill is trying to block any spot she can.

Right: Shanè Jackson is looking through her vocab list to see if she sees a familiar word. She needs a word because she has been looking for a while.

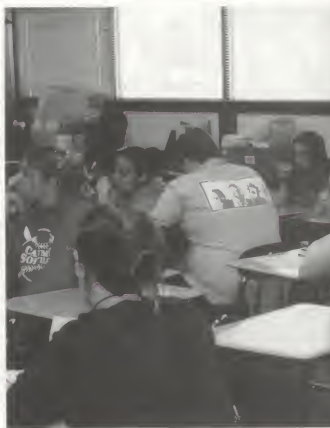

Top: Jon Evans is looking in the dictionary for a word to put on the board. He is down a lot of points.

Top: L'oreal Williams is looking at her letters to figure out a word. She is starting to get frustrated because she can't think of a word.

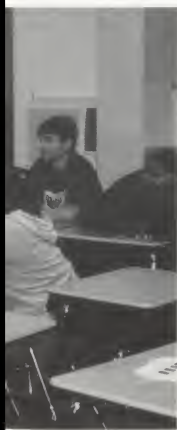

Right: The class is listening to their peer giving a speech. Eric Gaskey is trying to finish his work for his next class.

Left: Brittany Lambert is looking at her board to see her paintings. She is doing a very hard artist because there wasn't many sources on him.

Below: Dani Grimmer is giving a vibrant speech on Salvador Dail. Dani is the last presenter of the day and she finished on a good note.

Left: Nicole Laas is giving her speech in two different languages. She is nervous because she is the first to go on that day.

Math is used in our life everyday whether we realize it or not. Whether it be Algebra, Geometry, Pre-Calculus or Calculus these classes help students solve everyday practical problems. Math skills such as addition, subtraction, division and multiplication are basic skills everyone will need for a job or to attend college. Most students do not like listening in math class or doing their homework, but it is necessary to have skills and knowledge in math because it is needed for the rest of our life.

Time to Get Fit

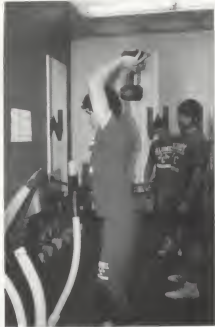

Physical education is a required class to take at CHS. Being enrolled in PE for two semesters can offer each student an opportunity to receive great physical fitness. The students are offered a wide range of activities to participate in such as roller skating, swimming, volleyball, kick ball, softball and basketball.

Besides the basic PE, students can enroll in Weight Training. This class offers students the use of the weight room to pump up their muscles or tone their body. If you feel that your day is lacking in physical activity then you should definitely take a type of physical education class.

Right: Where did my spotter go Daniel Hernandez thinks as he is lifting weights.

Experimenting In The Lab

At Calumet High School it is required that a student take and pass at least two years of science. The students can take Earth Science, Physical Science, Biology, Biology II, Chemistry, and Physics. Physical Science and Earth Science are the two most basic classes. In biology, students dissect a fetal pig while in Biology II the class dissect a mink. While the students are dissecting the pig or mink they are asked questions to help them understand the bone and muscle structure. In Chemistry and Physics classes students connect math with the basics of science they have learned in the previous years.

Above Right: Alicia Ireland is telling Todd Nicholson what to do next while he is dissecting the mink. She looks scared. Right: Look at Mary Hunter and Theresa Hunter dissecting a mink in Mrs. Nicks class. Later the mink will be used in the cafeteria.

Pimps From The Past

In Social Studies classes, teachers teach their students about the past, and the country we live in today. In Geography, students are able to learn about the climate of different countries, the extreme land conditions, and the cause and effect that certain industries have on the environment. In History classes, students learn about the past events that occurred all over the world which still impacts people today. Government and Economics classes provide students with the knowledge which further relates to the role of the government and the economy of the United States.

Pimpin' Out the Paint

Art is something that surrounds us in our everyday lives. In art class, besides drawing, painting, or sculpting, you also learn many different ways to express art and yourself. You learn all the different tones, tints, and shading of each color. Art brings a diverse atmosphere to the classroom because you learn but yet you are having fun at the same time. Some student's art work is shown in art exhibits and several win ribbons, including first. Mr. Whisler is given much credit because of his excellent teaching and fun character, many students can excell with a life of art.

Preparing Future Chefs

Nutrition and Wellness is a great class to take if you are lacking in the skills and knowledge needed to cook and prepare delicious foods. There are two different classes offered to help expand your knowledge in cooking which are Nutrition and Wellness and Advanced Nutrition and Foods. Each class emphasizes on the planning, preparing and serving of nutritious foods. Each unit will focus on a specific food group and then you will prepare foods that relate directly to that group. You will also learn the proper uses for tools needed in the kitchen and different techniques on preparing foods.

SPORTS

Playin The Field

Our Football team this year had high hopes for the season although they didn't have the best season, they still accomplished a lot. They realized they have a good young team and they should do better the next year. They worked on throughout the season the mistakes they made last year. The Warriors has some important seniors that are departing and the end of the season. Some of those names are Aaron Johnson, Max Doty, Angel Hernandez, David Hernandez, James Reid, Eric Gonzales, Sean King, and James Brown. The Warriors are hoping next year to improve on their record of 2-8.

Give Me Fuel, Give Me Fire

The 2004-2005 school year marked Coach Alb's first year at Calumet. As the new Cross Country coach, he led the Boy's team to the Regionals. In the Sectionals the team placed fourth. Eddie Rico qualified for Semi-State individually by finishing third. A few other stars proved themselves to be excellent runners on the boy's team. Eddie Rico made the LAC first Team All Area, and Dustin Denisiuk made the Second Team (Honorable Mention).

Coach Alb also coached the Girl's team. The girls didn't have enough to compete as a full team, but the young girls who dedicated themselves to the season will be back next year to compete. Let's hope they have a few more girls join so they can have a complete team.

Golfin' ain't easy!

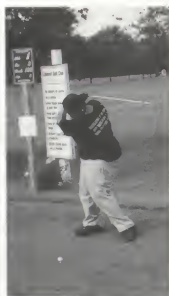

The Girl's Golf team may not have had a stellar season, but they certainly deserve an "A" for effort. They didn't have all that many players (there were only five). Of those five, three will leave due to the fact that they are seniors. Mary Silva, Christina Brumfield, and Amber Marlow are those departing seniors. All that will be left of the team is Angel Starr and Megan Davis.

Their record for the year was 2-16 overall and 1-6 in the conference. They beat Bishop Noll twice. Maybe next year things will get better with the help of new recruits.

(Right) Angel Starr shoots out of the bunker. She's using an open-faced club - a sandwedge.

Boys' Tennis: Big Pimpin' Two Years Straight

The 2004 Boys' Tennis capped off the two most successful years of Coach Tauber's career at CHS. The varsity team ended with an LAC Blue division record of 7-0 and an overall record of 13-2 (losing only to Highland). The boys were the champions of the LAC Blue Division. The varsity team consisted of Jonathan Evans, Greg Neely, James Choate, Tim Catizone, Billy Evans, Tony Tauber, and Aaron Cabrera. Unfortunately, Coach Tauber will be losing slightly more than half of his varsity team next year with the departure of seniors Jonathan Evans, Greg Neely, James Choate, and Tim Catizone. However, the Junior Varsity and Freshman teams have also been performing well and with three members of the current varsity team returning next year, the 2005 season could plausibly be just as spectacular as the past two have been.

STRAIGHT UP KIBLA YO!!!!

The JV and C Volleyball Teams (Don't be confused; these are the names of two separate teams, not a company that makes VCR's) are the developmental teams of the school. There the players learn how to cooperate as a team and build trust with one another in order to win games. I am pretty sure that they all gained something: experience and teamwork.

Can You Dig It Fool!?

When the season started out things did not look good for the Lady Warriors Volleyball team. They lost six of their first eight games. However when the season started to draw to a close, they kicked into high gear, winning seven of their last eleven games. The final record for the season was 16 wins and 18 losses. This is not bad because eight of twelve players will come back next year. The four departing Seniors are Crystal Baldner, Alison Flores, Connie Martinez, and Jill Spencer. They finished second in the LAC Blue Division by beating the Griffith Panthers. The Lady Warriors also beat Munster for the first time in school history. My predictions are that next year things will turn around.

(Below Right) Theresa Hunter sets it up for Kayla Wolak. Theresa had the second highest amount of sets with 305. (Right) Megan Bennett, Sonae Choate, and Jill Spencer look to return a serve. The entire team had a returning percentage of 86.7%.

(Right) Brianne Cercone serves to the other team. She had 242 good serves out of 255 attempts with a good serving percentage of 94.9%. (Below) The 2004 Varsity Volleyball team. Young Ballas

Joining a sport in a new school is always exciting. This year, the freshman basketball team was full of young men hoping to have fun and a winning season. They had a close record of 9-11. They proved that hard teamwork was a key to defeating the obstacles they needed to overcome. Overall, the boys had an enjoyable season with an excellent coach who helped with encouraging words along the sidelines for a great season.

This year was a tough but enjoyable season for the JV boy's basketball team. They showed hard work and determination with a record of 7-11. Each game the boys gave the best of their ability. With the help of tough practices and a good coach, the boys showed a will to win. Those that will advance to varsity in their next season will surely add endurance and positive attitudes to the court.

Flyin' Above the Rim

This was Coach Ridenour's first year as Head Coach of the Boy's Varsity Basketball team. The team had a 4-17 season, which is actually respectable if you think about it. The team did have the burden of getting used to a new system. The team should be better next year because most of the team is coming back.

Tim Catizone, Max Doty, Aaron Johnson, and Sean King are the four players that are graduating this year. The team will have to find a new Center though. Of all of the returning players, no one is physically suited to be the Center

Knocking Down the Pins

For the second year in a row, Calumet has opened its doors to a new sport...Bowling. Like last year, the bowling team has had a really good turn out for people trying out for the team. Whether they are experienced or novice bowlers they now bowl for the Calumet team. This year all bowlers tried their best to beat their personal best. Some achieved their goals, while others say there is always next year. Even though this is only the second year for the bowling team, there already is a massive amount of hope shining through. The bowlers just keep getting better. At this rate, all the Calumet bowlers will be able to, one day bowl above at least a three-hundred!

Right: Looks like Ashlee Pearce is getting worried. Don't fret Ashlee! You'll knock down those remaining pins.

VARSITY GIRL BALLAS

The 2004-2005 Girl's Basketball season went pretty good for Coach Downing and her girls. Varisty had a record of 7-15, JV was 11-9, and Freshman was 10-5. Next year looks to be promising as well, with many of the varsity players returning and the JV players potentially going to the varisty team. The girl's team will be losing some great players, though, including Jill Spencer, Crystal Baldner, Song-Hee Jackson, Christina Brumfield, Mary Silva, and L'oreal Williams. We'll be bidding these girls a fond farewell and hopefully welcoming some new faces to the team.

WRESTLERS RETURN TO THEIR WINNING WAYS

The CHS Wrestlers, after struggling through four sub .500 dual seasons, finished a respectable 13-10 in duals this season. The Warriors did this with a varsity lineup consisting of seven sophomores, a freshman, a junior, and only two seniors. The future appears bright for this young team. There were a lot of season awards. The Most Improved Wrestler award went to Dustin Denisiuk. The Outstanding Wrestler award went to Cyle Kasper. Cyle also won the Crossface Award and Outstanding Fresh.

Flowing Through the Water

The Seahawks had some high hopes this year. The Seahawks got a brand new head coach Ms. Bulatovich. Bulatovich brings her strong will and her relentless work ethic to the seahawks. The seahawks swam with a lot of heart and swam every meet. Even though they didn't have a winning record they have a bright future. The Seahawks will lose most of the boys team. It's consisted of Eric Richards, Todd Nicholson, Danny Patton, Gabriel Marrero. The Seahawks will have all their girls squad. Keep up the good work.

(Right) Katherine Galligo is trying to perfect the freestyle. She looks like she is looking a something, wonder what it could be?

(Low Right) Todd Nicholson knows that if he swims hard enough he could get that record. Todd is also trying to work on his hand technique.

Eric Richards is turning his head so he can breath. If Eric doesn't he won't make it to the finish line.

Harmony Stevens is in the middle of a dive. I hope Harmony doesn't do a belly-flop.

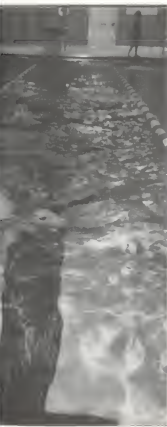

Alicia Ireland is swimming hard so she can cut time. If she does not, she has some explaining to do to the coach.

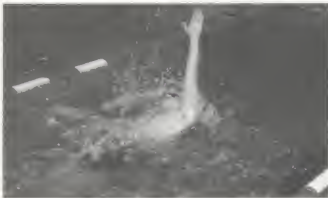

(Left) Danny Patton is working on his breathing techniques for his breaststroke. He looks like he is starting to choke on the water.
(Bottom) Randi Wilson just started to work on her butterfly. Randi is having lots of fun learning a stroke in such a short time.

Pimps on the Course

From the beginning of the season, the goal of the boys' golf team was to win the conference championship. Not since 1969 had a boys' golf team accomplished this feat, but this year's team did it in the LAC Blue division! Actually tying Wheeler for the round robin championship, the boys needed to defeat Wheeler at the conference tournament held at the Supervisors Club in Hobart to win the title outright. This proved to be no problem as the boys soundly defeated Wheeler by 12 strokes!

Left: Chris Harper and Paul Simons take a break from golfing in order to catch up on some reading and writing.

Coach Green won the Championship Coach of the Year honors after the tournament - thanks to the boys!

Returning letter winners from the previous year, senior Dylan Norman and juniors Drew Parkes, Ryan Parkes, and Josh Schumacher, were joined by freshman sensation Clarence La Ron Bryant. Clarence provided stability to an already strong team. Three team members won positions on the First Team All Conference Team: Bryant, Schumacher, and D. Parkes, while R. Parkes won a position on the Second Team All Conference Team.

After finishing the season at 9-6 overall, first of four at the Calumet Invite, third of ten at the Westville Invitational and ninth of sixteen at the LAC Tournament, the boys look ahead to next year where expectations will be high again as all but Norman return to the line-up. The boys finished their season at Sectionals placing 8 out of 13. Congratulations on a great season boys!

RUNNIN' LIKE A CHAMPION

This year's track team consisted of thirty-seven dependable and exceptionally talented athletes. The boys' team was led by senior Tyrae Edmonds who qualified for the state meet in the 100meter dash. The boys' 400m relay team, consisting of Edmonds, Errol Sherrod, Aaron Johnson and Eric Richards also experienced much success.

Two standout newcomers, senior Sung-Hee Jackson and junior Chase Sakovich, contributed greatly to the girls' and boys' teams respectively.

Other contributors include freshman Dominique Jackson and senior Chritisina Brumfield who competed at the regional level in the discus and shotput respectively.

Pimps of the Field

Whoever said high school baseball was all fun and games was dead wrong. To be a part of the Calumet Baseball Team, you must be dedicated. This season, there were several games each week which left little time to practice what needed to be practiced to improve as a team. The 2005 Baseball Team went into Sectionals 7-18. They won their first game against Gavitt, 2-0. Next they had to play Morton. This game was much more difficult and the boys fell short and lost 8-5. This was quite disappointing for the boys who expected themselves to go much farther. The baseball team finished their season 8-19-2. Leaving this year are five outstanding seniors, Jon Evans, Angel Hernandez, Greg Neely, and Nick Parojcic. The highlight this year was that pitcher Greg Neely finally received the recognition he deserved from local press and other teams. Congratulations boys on a hard fought season and good luck next year!

Field of Dreams

It was another long season for the Lady Warriors. Although they were not incredibly successful (their record was 12-17), they did their best. They also had a few moments of victory, but "The Lady Luck of Softball" was not kind to the girls. As the saying goes, "There is always next year." The Lady Warriors will have a much better season next year.

(Right) While Amanda Cole pitches, Brianne Cercone anticipates to field the ball. There was no need for that though, because Amanda Cole struck out the batter.

Warrior Netters Back Again

This year the Warrior Netters had a good season, ending the season with a record of 11-4. Even though they didn't win sectionals they never lost hope and on the bright side they had a good overall season. The doubles tandem of Brittany Condron and Theresa Hunter, even though it was their first time being together as a doubles team, proved to be the most successful doubles team.

The problem is this is Brittany's last year, as it is Ashlee Pearce's. They both were vital parts if the winning system. Mr. Tauber again coached a winning team and next year he plans to do the same. Good luck nexy year Warrior Netters.

Stephanie Stone just hit the ball hard hoping for an ace. Stephanie is an upcoming talent for next year.

Theresa Hunter is waiting for Brittany to serve the ball to the opponent. As Brittany's partner at number one doubles, Theresa is hoping to cutoff the ball when it comes back over the net.

Brittany Condron just smashed the ball past her opponent. As a member of the number one doubles team, Brittany understands the importance of teamwork.

Sonae Choate just hit the ball back and she is anticipating a quick return. Playing at the number two singles spot was rewarding for Sonae.

All That Warrior Spirit

What would we do without our cheerleaders cheering at the basketball and football games for our players? Cheerleaders lift the spirits of both the audience and the players. Although the cheerleading squad was smaller than usual, a tremendous amount of dedication and spirit was still put forth by these girls. Each year tryouts are held at the end of the year for all the hopefuls who want to be a Calumet cheerleader. The following summer the ones who made the squad go to cheer camp. During fall they cheer for our football team and for the pep-rally during homecoming. They also help train the senior boys to become cheerleaders for the powderpuff game. In the winter, they cheer for the boys' and girls' basketball teams. Keep up the hard work and dedication girls!

ACTIVITIES

Da Homecoming Funk

From September 27 to October 1 Calumet had spirit week in preparation for homecoming. From theme days, to the parade, to the powder puff game, to the bonfire, to the pep rally, everyone got their school spirit pumped up. The festivities began on Monday with the first theme day: crazy day. On Tuesday we had decade day. Each class had a different decade. The seniors had the '80s, the juniors had '50s, the sophomores had the '70s and the '30s, and the freshmen had the '60s. On Wednesday the theme was cross-dressing in honor of the Powder Puff football game which was held on Wednesday night after the Homecoming parade. Thursday's theme was the individual themes of each float, which gave seniors the seasons, juniors the Olympics, sophomores the election, and freshman the Final Four. On Friday it was time to show your school spirit by wearing red and white and going to the pep rally. Then the Homecoming game finally came. Though we lost with a final score of 14-48, it was still a fun ride all week.

Right: Seniors start off the four four-themed floats of the parade. Their theme: the seasons.

Right: After the Powder Puff game everyone went to the Bonfire to warm up. Look at how bright it is against the dark sky.

Below: Sonae Choate and Megan Bennett show off their craziness on crazy day. What are they discussing? Something crazy, no doubt.

Left: The most awesome hallway ever. Yes, it's the award winning Senior hallway. The theme: the seasons. There's a lot of winter there; brrrr, it's cold. Santa Claus and his elf are standing on some fake snow.

Left: The Sophomore hallway, with its election theme, showed true patriotism. It also let the Sophomore class use the school colors, red and white. Feel the pride.

Spreading The Candy!

Safe Trick or Treat was full of fun and excitement this year. Calumet High School has been having Safe Trick or Treat for about seven years. Safe Trick or Treat allows children to trick or treat so they are not running around on the streets at night and it also allows the children to know where they received their candy.

The Student Council organized everything while The National Honor Society and other clubs at Calumet High School help pass out the candy. Children help our Thanksgiving food drive by donating a can good to enter Safe Trick or Treat. This helps the parents know where their children are and also helps the needy people in our community.

The children get to go from classroom to classroom to get candy. Every classroom door is decorated and almost everybody who is passing out candy is dressed up in a Halloween costume. Chorus sang songs at the entrance for everyone.

Safe Trick or Treat is an event at Calumet High School that every child loves and looks forward to every year. Halloween is a fun but unsafe holiday. Now children can get the candy that they want and parents can get the relief knowing that their child is safe while they are trick or treating.

Helping Out The Lil Ones

P.U.S.H., or Prevention Using Student Help. P.U.S.H. is a nationwide club that promotes drug awareness. The organization uses high school students to talk to elementary students about the dangers of drugs, alcohol, and tobacco. They tell the truth about drugs and they don't hide anything, so the information they tell them will hopefully stay in their head as they go through peer pressure.

Every October, the new and former P.U.S.H. members go through a twenty hour training program that lasts for two days. They are taught by trained professionals about the true dangers of drugs, alcohol, and tobacco. In their training, the members receive information that the majority of the public doesn't even know.

P.U.S.H. participates in two important events every year. First, they spend many hours hanging posters and red ribbons around the school for Red Ribbon Week. During each day of this week, they post an important fact about the dangers of drugs to the student body. Also, they go to the three elementary schools in our school system. For a week at a time, they travel to each school to teach the importance of being drug-free.

Drawing Out the Volunteers

Each year the Student Senate sponsors blood drives to donate pints of blood to the Heartland Blood Centers in the Chicago-land area. This year's blood drive had a massive turnout with over 260 blood donations from CHS students, staff, and people outside the school. Every person who donated received either a Heartland Blood Center T-shirt or flannel pants for their good deed. People who want to donate have to meet certain requirements. For example: They have to eat prior to donating blood and have to weigh at least 110 pounds. Volunteers who are under 16 years of age must have a parent permission slip signed and returned the day of the drive. Donating blood is a truly good deed. Every pint of blood can save up to three lives. It's a truly amazing feeling to know that Calumet could help save the lives of people who are in desperate need of our donations. Thanks to all the volunteers, workers, and Mr. Keehn who helped make these blood drives such a success. Help keep the success flowing and sign up for the future blood drives!!!

Looks like Mr. Keehn is having a good day. Not only is he in charge of the blood drive but he also participates.

Far Right: Giving blood isn't so bad. Just look at Tim Catizone, giving us the thumbs up.

This year the Calumet High School Student Senate organized two food drives: one for Thanksgiving and the other for Christmas. They received donations from the students and staff at Calumet High School. They also received donations from the community. They had a wonderful turn out of non-perishable goods that was given to the less fortunate families in our community.
The Student Senate had an extravagant amount of non-perishable goods this year. The food drive could not have been possible if it had not been for all the volunteers that helped pack up all the food.

Bringing Out the Goods

Makin Money

This year's Calumet High School Yearbook Staff organized the Fun Fair. The Yearbook Staff held two Fun Fairs, one in the fall and the other in the spring. Different sponsors each held a game in order to raise money for their club or group.

The Fun Fair had at least 12 activities for the people to enjoy. Some of the activities were the Jail, Bozo Buckets, Face Paintings, Wheel Of Fortune, the Cake Walk, and many more fun activities.

Many people of all ages attended this year's Fun Fair. It was very successful and helped raise money for all the clubs or groups who participated in it.

THE PEOPLE THAT MADE THIS YEARBOOK PIMPIN'

Without a yearbook, you would not be reading this right now. With the use of computers, scanners, a camera, and special programs on the computers, the yearbook takes hard work and a lot of time. The yearbook helps us remember the fun but hard years of high school. The yearbook staff this year consists of seven seniors: Bud Conner, Jennifer Betustak, Janell Evans, Alison Flores, Amber Marlow, Tomas Torres, and Chris Zinanni and one junior: Hollie Botsko. With only eight people on the yearbook staff it is a little harder to make deadlines but in the end the yearbook members make the yearbook a success, of course with the help of their wonderful sponsor Ms. Green.

Battle Of The Classes

The yearbook conducted the Class Olympics during sixth period December 17, 2004. The Class Olympics is a series of events where all four classes compete to win and to know their class is better than the other three classes. This year we had the following contests: pie eating, tug-of-war, basketball shooting, throw the hula hoop over the Warrior, a relay race, and pantyhose race.

This year the seniors won the battle of the Class Olympics with a wonderful 29 points. The Juniors followed with 27 points, sophomores with 21 points, and freshmen with 15 points.

Feeling the Rhythm

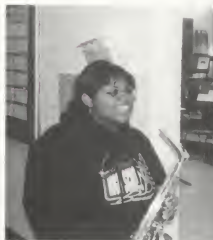

Band class is more than an easy credit class, it gives people the opportunity to become knowledgeable about music. If you never had a band class, then you are missing out in the world. Music is important all over the world with varying styles including classical, rap, pop, and heavy metal. Every one should have a basic knowledge about music. The people featured on this page do and they are not complaining.

This is Not Karaoke

As the headline states, this is not a karaoke class. If you are going to go in there and try to sing, then you better bring it. This class is a collection of people who enjoy singing. They sing classics that fit the mood that everyone is in or the season that is currently taking place. If it is near Christmas, then they would sing Christmas carols. They also sing very well. Simon Cowell would not have any problem approving this group's talent.

(Left) Mrs. Potoma tells the class that they will sing "Old Man River". Better get someone with a bass voice to sing lead.

WHAT'S THE 411

The newspaper staff was stocked this year. There were many journalists on the newspaper staff. Among the staff members were many seniors whose dedication was greatly appreciated by Mr. Boufis. Running the newspaper staff for the past ten years, Mr. Boufis realizes he is going to be in a pinch since he is losing half the staff to graduation. With the increase in participation this year, the newspaper staff was able to get a lot more articles in and printed for a better newspaper.

The staff consisted of Kasie Wade, Candace

Day, Patty Mathias, Elisabeth Simons, Zach Bishop, Tajh Cochran, Katherine Galligo, Brianne Cercone, Theresa, Hunter, Sonae Choate, Bud Conner (photographer). Brandi Purcell, David Torres, Amanda Bridegroom, Crystal Proto, Amanda Hogue, and Paul Simons. They all showed great dedication towards their newspaper. Editor Patty Mathias was an integral part of this staff. She made sure deadlines were met, stories were generated and layouts were finished on time. As the editor, Mathias also had to hound the reporters to finish their articles in a timely manner.

SPENDING TIME AT THE CAREER CENTER

The Hammond Area Career Center is the place to spend three hours of your school day and get a head start on a future career. The fact that a student is able to go to the Career Center and explore his or her future and be free from the hour to hour grind of class after uninterested class is a big win for those who take advantage of it. Calumet High School sent approximately fifteen students to the morning sessions and one student to the afternoon session. Everyone who attended the center was very grateful to be there.

Classes vary from automotive, with many different levels from body shop to a technician, to culinary arts (let's cook up a feast here!), to medical interests (denistry, nursing, etc.), to child care, to fiber optics, and computers, again incorporating many different levels like programming and diagnostics. These are not the only classes offered, but they did seem to be the most popular with CHS students.

The students who do take advantage of the Career Center enjoy the hands-on experiences and the ability to decide if that is indeed the career path they wish to take.

Want to get a jump start to your career? or do you want the opportunity to see if you have chosen a career that you will really enjoy? Then sign-up to take courses at the Hammond Career Center!

Grade Pimps

Scholarship, character, leadership, and service. All Honor Society members have these four characteristics in common. Each year around spring the NHS hold an induction ceremony for new members. Also at the ceremony the senior members honor their most influential teacher. In order to be considered for induction they must have a grade point average of 3.2 and participate in extracurricular activities. The members of NHS participate in many community service projects including safe trick-or-treat and school clean ups.

Stormin' da Teachers' Lounge

March 12, 2005 was the date of the first play in two years and Ms. Collier's first ever. This play was an amazingly humorous play about a group of students who mischievously decide to find out what really goes on in the teachers' lounge. There were several roles that were based on CHS teachers. Among these were Mr. Vecchi, played by Josh Schumacher, Mr. Brugioni, played by Sam VanDyke, and Mr.

Tauber, played by fellow chieftain Bud Conner. Even Ms. Collier herself was depicted in the play by Theresa Hunter. There were also several original and humorous roles such as Mr. Sweatsalot, Mr. Fourmaldeehide, and Ms. Scardycakes. The person who came up with these names did a good job. It takes a long time to organize a play such as this one. It was really funny and here's hoping that there will be many more to follow.

All the Glamour

On May 6, 2005, students poured into St. George's church and awaited the night's activities. "Who would will prom king and queen?" was probably the thought on everyone's mind. After dinner was served, the crowd did not have to wait much longer as the king and queen was announced. Theresa Hunter and Josh Schumacher were the chosen king and queen for the 2005 prom. After the crowning, the students gathered together to take pictures with their friends and to dance the night away to the musical stylings played by Next Generation's Dj. It was a night that made some people's dreams come true, which would end up being forever tomorrow's memories.

Off to Move Mountains

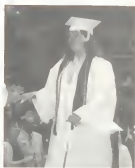

June 12, 2005 - We all met in the auditorium for our last school event: graduation. A time we were all looking forward to from our first step into CHS as freshmen. What a wild ride we endured while on our way. Homecoming events won, Class Olympics victors, and participants in some of the best athletic teams at CHS in years!

Many of us will cherish the memories we made along the way too - slumber parties, birthday parties, elementary classes and the teachers who inspired us!

Now it's our time to go out and move some mountains - so let's get on our way!

Right: Enjoying the procession of seniors across the stage are Christina Brumfield, Jessica Castellano, Tim Catizone and James Choate. They can't wait to receive their diplomas!

While receiving her diploma, Brittany Condrion cries because she has been thinking of the memories surrounding her family, friends, and teachers. Brittany plans to continue her education at IUN.

To Our Baby D!

Our only wish for you is that you live your life to its fullest.

There is no limit to the possibilities ahead of you. We ask that you strive for the best of everything, simply because you deserve it.

Our pride, love and admiration is limitless and we adore you more than words can say.

God bless you and keep you. And may you

Danielle Grimmer always have peace.

Nicholas Wayne Parojic

From your 1st year in school to your last year in school.

In all your accomplishments you've made us proud..

Congrats

We love you,

Nicholas Parojic

Mom and Dad

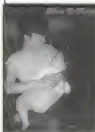

To my best friend Nikki,

You were always there for me, thick or thin. You kept my day bright and me always smiling. We never gave up on our friendship. We went through a lot but not as much as there could have been. This is for all the days to remember you by and to embarrass you.

Love you like a sis,

Nicole Nemeth

Ashlee

Rock-a-by Robert on the treetop. It's time to get up get going don't stop. I can remember that day like it was yesterday. You'll never know how proud I am of you until it's one of your own. "Robert" u my best friend in the whole wide world.

I Love You

Robert Guernsey

God & Mom

Chadd,

I am so proud of you in everything you have accomplished. You're not only my boyfriend, but my best friend and I don't know what I would do without you. I love you very much and congratulations!

Love Always and Forever,

Chadd Mattingly Jenny

Jodie,

May all of your dreams of today, become your realities in the future. We're so proud to call you our daughter.

Love Always,

Mom & Dad

Jodie Ordway

When I think of you R.C. lots of things come to mind but one is so clear you're my blessing from God.

All angels don't have to have wings to come from heaven, some are in disguise just like you are. You're such a joy to me son. You brought me out of my past into the present and you gave me a reason to look forward to the future, stay special baby boy (Bud).

Love Mom,

Ryan Holden

Jane Russell

Timmy, Isn't it funny to think how far we've come? High school went by in the blink of an eye, but I'm lucky to be able to say I had you by my side to make it fun and memorable. I'm so proud of you and I see nothing but good coming out of your future. You deserve nothing but the best out of life, do't stop until you get it. I love you!

Love Always,

Tim Catizone

Brittany

Not too long ago you barely had wings, now it's your chance to fly away to a life that only a man would choose. We are with you all the way and proud to call you our son so reach for the sky and beyond.

Love,

Jon Evans

Mom and Dad

Congratulations

To our beautiful daughter Mary. As your family we just want to know how much we love you. Thank you for always lending a helping hand without even being asked, and for making us so proud to have you as our daughter and being the special sister and aunt that you are. Good luck and we hope all your dreams come true.

Love Always

Mary Silva

Mom, Dad, Albert, Nessa, Marcus, John, & Alex

Crystal Baldner Mom and Dad

Wow has time gone by. I can't believe my baby is graduating. Give your best at everything you do and you will succeed. Best wishes as you start your college years. Be careful and enjoy your experiences.

Love,

Amanda Belcher Nanna & Poppa

Amanda Belcher

Wow! Our little "drama queen" is graduating and we are so proud. It wasn't always easy for you, but we knew you would hang in there. Just remember you are never alone and we love you.

Chadd Mattingly Love, Mom, Dad, Britni, Doris, and Papi

Chadd,

We were blessed the day you were born. We can't begin to tell you how proud we are of you. Memaw, Aunt Doris, and Scotty are looking down with a smile and are also so proud. Wherever the future may take you, always remember we are only a call away. Never give up your dreams, and remember the choices you make now will affect your life tomorrow, congratulations, we love you!!!

Jenny,

We are all so proud of you. Your mom is looking down with a smile and a hug! She loved you very much and though it's not the same, so do we.

Congratulations and Love

Susan, Duane, Papaw, Britni, & Doris

Brittany Condon Dad & Mom

Brittany,

You are the constant shining star in our lives. As we watch our precious little girl become a beautiful young woman our hearts are filled with love and pride. June 12, 2005 we will watch you waltz into the next stage of your life. We want you to live your dreams, follow your heart and believe in yourself, accomplish your goals. Our lives are fulfilled because of you.

Love

Niya Love Mom & Eddie

Memories come flooding back to me as I look back over the years. It's so easy to remember your very first steps. As each year passes you take more steps, eventually leading you away from me, but always remember that my hand and heart are forever here. You will always be my little girl. You have such spirit and a character all your own. You've been life's greatest gift to me and I love you.

Amber Marlow Dad, Mom, Amanda, & Madalyn

Amber,

Congratulations!! We are so proud of you as you graduate with honors. Time has come to a close for your childhood education and a new beginning into adulthood awaits you in college. You are about to start a journey that will determine your destination in life. May all your hopes and dreams come true on becoming a great teacher and bring you success in the years to come.

All Our Love,

Jennifer Betustak

Jan June,

Congratulations
I'm Proud of you
I know you will succeed
in the future with your goals

Love
Dad

Max Doty

Max Michael Doty,

You are my everything. I'm so glad you're in my life. We're going to be graduating soon and starting a new chapter in our lives. I'm so proud of you and how much you have grown up. Thanks for always being there to lead me in the right directions. Always keep your head up no matter what obstacles life throws at you. I know you will because you deserve nothing but the best. I love you so much.

Love Ya, Jessica

Jessica Castellano Mom and Dad

Congratulations Jess!

No words can describe how proud we are of you. It has been a blessing watching you grow from that curious little girl into a beautiful young lady. How quickly the years went by. It feels like just yesterday you were riding on the ceiling fan (Haha). We know whatever you set your heart & mind to you will achieve. We love you very much.

God Bless,

Connie Martinez

I remember when you were born; how happy I was to look at your sweet little face, to feel your tiny hand wrapped around my finger, to hold your little body in my arms. I patiently watched you grow into a beautiful young lady; I was filled with pride. I see your face now and I see your father who would be so proud of his little girl now, all grown-up and going away to college. I thank God for giving me a wonderful daughter whom I love with all my heart

Good Luck, We Love You! Mom & Jessica

Tyrae,

You are a very special child and you were blessed with special gifts. I know that you and your brothers were gifts to me. You continue to carry your smile and generosity with you throughout life's journey. Know to always put God first and as long as you remain humble and strive to be the best and acknowledge God, he will always lead and guide your footsteps. I love you and wish much prosperity.

Love, Mom

LET'S GET PERSONAL

Dylan Norman

When our children are born we think we have a long struggle ahead of us. Then one day not so long after that moment we are making plans for our child's "graduation day" as they move on to start the process of adult life and most likely have children of their own someday. I am positively sure they will be just fine because my child over all adversities has turned out to become a fine, strong, and honest young man. And as his father I say thanks Dylan for being my son. I am very proud of you,
Dad

Krystal Kostanski

You've struggled to get where you are. You also went through some hardships. One thing that makes me very proud about you is that you did it all by yourself with little help from me. Krystal, you and Adela are the most precious people in my life. I love you both very much. Congratulations baby girl.
Love,
Mom

Jillian Spencer

Jill,
You're the last of us. You've made us so proud in everything you've ever done; even though we teased you (big head). You will always be our Jill. Fabulous. Good luck at IU. We're sure you will do just as well if not much better than we did. We love you.
Love,
Carrie, Britt, and Zack

David Hernandez

My very cute baby boy is now my very handsome young man. I have always been proud of you. Every goal you have had since you were a baby you have accomplished. Now go forward and follow your dreams, there is a big bright future, waiting for you.

Love, Mom

Nicole Vela

Nicole,
You don't have to be on stage or win trophies to show me you're a star. You've always shined bright and made me nothing but proud. Reach for the sky! And make all the noise you can. Fly high my love.
Love,
Mommy

Jill Spencer

Jillian,
The years have gone by so fast. You were our rollie pollie baby. Now you are a beautiful young woman. You have and always will be our shining star. Watching you grow and compete in all you do has always been the highlight of our life. Enjoy college, but remember high school as the best years of your life.
All our love forever,
Mom and Dad

Brandon Lohman

Brandon,
We've watched you grow into a man and develop physically, educationally, and spiritually. You've been blessed with wonderful talents and abilities including a big heart and contagious smile. Follow God and follow your dreams as you continue on life's journey. You have our love and support.

Your Proud Mom & Dad

Kristie
You made the leap!
TOADALLY AWESOME!!!!

Love,
Mom & Dan

Ashlee Pearce

To My Little Girl Ashlee,
I miss little hands getting into everything, you playing in the mud and dragging home every animal you found. You still do all that, but now you're a beautiful young woman. Stay as loving and forgiving as you are. Keep a good heart, treat life with respect, be the best you can be. The stars are yours, just reach for them. I thank God for my kids, thank you for being one of them.
Love,
Mom

Ashlee Pearce

To Ashlee,
We've been through good times and bad. But it seems we always managed to get through the bad and fly through the good. I'll miss you after high school, but hopefully we won't lose touch. We've spent six years of our growing years together, we can't stop now. I wish you all the best in your life. I have and always will love you like a sister.
Your friend,
Nicole Nemeth

Above: Tommy Torres takes a break during his yearbook class to play in the ball net. Hey Tommy, are your pages finished yet????

Below: L'oreal Williams and Jerrilynn Patton seem to be concentrating on different issues of the scholarship information that is being presented. Where do you girls plan to go after high school?

Above: Senior Janell Evans seems to find helping with the Food Drive a laughing matter. Perhaps it's because she can't seem to lift the box she just filled.

Below: Chadd Mattingly and Christina Brumfield enjoy one last dance at their senior prom. Who knows where these two will end up in the next few years.

World Travelers

On June 18, 2004 eleven individuals boarded a plane headed for London, North Wales and Ireland. English teacher Ms Green set up the trip and invited anyone to go along. Five brave students thought leaving behind family and friends was an exciting risk. Ms. Green, Brittany Condon, Ryan Holden, Jodie Ordway, Gina Perez and Jill Spencer were joined by Mr. Boufis and the Spencer clan for a fun-filled trip! From adults getting left behind, to seeing an authentic Irish pub and jig, to enjoying local food and seeing some great sights, all the participants seemed to enjoy themselves!

Right: Ryan Holden takes a picture of Ms. Green who is trying to do push-ups against a wall at the Blarney Castle. Below: Posing before touring Oxford University, Jill Spencer and Brittany Condon are all smiles. Hey! Has anyone seen Ms. Green?????

Right: While in London, Jill Spencer and Brittany Condon consider making a phone call from the corner phone booth but they don't know who to call!

Above: A little rain did fall while in Ireland, but that didn't stop Gina Perez from showing how much fun she was having.

Left: Ryan Holden, Gina Perez, Jill Spencer, Jodie Ordway and Brittany Condron take a picture outside of a castle in Ireland. There were so many, who remembers which one this is?

Below: Brittanny Condron has made her wish before she kisses the Blarney Stone at the Castle Blarney in Ireland. One of the Irish traditions is by kissing this stone a person will have the gift of gab...did it work Brittanny?

Left: Jodie Ordway, Brittanny Spencer, Gina Perez, Jill Spencer, and Brittanny Condron pose with their most animated, knowledgeable, and vivacious guide for the Tower of London. None of the girls wanted to hang around too long after this for fear of being beheaded!

Left: The travelers visited many castles along their trip, but none were as exciting as was the Tower of London. They learned that lots of beheadings took place there by order of King Henry VIII.

2004-2005

Chieftain Yearbook was a fun yet difficult yearbook to put together.

This year we wanted to have a theme that was fun and different from the ones that were used before, so the yearbook staff voted on the theme "All Pimped Out". Each section emphasized the theme in one way or another. The entire yearbook staff contributed to the production of the yearbook. The title page and division pages were designed by Editor: Janell Evans and Co-Editor: Bud Conner. Chieftain's cover was chosen for its unique style and flashy colors; something that will correlate with the theme. The senior headshots and club/team pictures were taken by Studio 216. The candid pictures found throughout the pages were taken by the yearbook staff and Ms.Green.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) (1999a).

There is a growing emphasis on the need to improve the efficiency of public services, and to ensure that the public sector is able to deliver services in a cost-effective manner. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the implementation of performance targets.

The aim of this paper is to examine the impact of these initiatives on the public sector, and to identify the factors that are likely to influence the success of these initiatives. The paper is organized as follows. Section 2 discusses the background to the initiatives, and Section 3 describes the data used in the analysis. Section 4 presents the results of the analysis, and Section 5 discusses the implications of the findings.

2. Background

The public sector in the UK has been the subject of a number of initiatives in recent years, aimed at improving efficiency and reducing costs. These initiatives have included the introduction of competition, the restructuring of public services, and the implementation of performance targets.

The introduction of competition has been a key feature of the reforms, with a number of public services being opened up to competition. This has led to a number of changes in the way that public services are delivered, and has helped to reduce costs.

The restructuring of public services has also been a key feature of the reforms, with a number of public services being reorganized. This has helped to improve the efficiency of public services, and has helped to reduce costs.

The implementation of performance targets has been another key feature of the reforms, with a number of public services being required to meet specific targets. This has helped to improve the efficiency of public services, and has helped to reduce costs.

The impact of these initiatives on the public sector has been mixed. While there have been some successes, there have also been some failures. This paper examines the impact of these initiatives on the public sector, and identifies the factors that are likely to influence the success of these initiatives.

3. Data

The data used in this analysis are drawn from the Public Sector Statistics published by the Office for National Statistics (ONS). The data cover the period 1990–1999, and are organized by sector and by region.

The data are organized into three main categories: Public Sector Output, Public Sector Input, and Public Sector Expenditure. Each category is further divided into a number of sub-categories, and the data are presented in a number of tables.

The data are presented in a number of tables, and the results of the analysis are discussed in Section 4. The data are presented in a number of tables, and the results of the analysis are discussed in Section 4.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the health care needs of the elderly population. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a strategy for the NHS to meet the needs of the elderly population. This strategy is based on the following principles:

- The NHS should be able to meet the needs of the elderly population in a timely and effective manner.
- The NHS should be able to meet the needs of the elderly population in a way that is consistent with the values and principles of the NHS.
- The NHS should be able to meet the needs of the elderly population in a way that is consistent with the needs of the wider community.

The NHS is committed to meeting the needs of the elderly population in a way that is consistent with the values and principles of the NHS.
